

Family record

This copy stays with you

Use only what helps and leave anything blank. Keep the completed record private. Nothing in this PDF is sent to MMIPS. In immediate danger, call 911; you do not need to finish this first.

1. Person and report

Person's full name

Name they use and pronouns (optional)

Date and time the concern began

Date and time first reported

Tribal, local, state, or federal agency

Agency case or file number

Investigator or family liaison

Official phone or email

Tribal or victim-services contact (optional)

NCIC confirmation, NamUs number, or other official reference

2. Location and basic information

Broad last-known area that may be safe to share publicly

Use a community or region, not a private street address.

Exact or sensitive location for your private record

Keep this off public posts. Share only with the investigating agency or another trusted service when appropriate.

Basic identifying information requested by the agency

Clothing, vehicle, travel, or mobility details

Family record

3. Calls and updates

Short notes are enough. Write the next step so you do not have to hold it in memory.

Contact 1

Date and time

Person, agency, and contact

What happened and next step

Contact 2

Date and time

Person, agency, and contact

What happened and next step

Contact 3

Date and time

Person, agency, and contact

What happened and next step

Contact 4

Date and time

Person, agency, and contact

What happened and next step

4. Information approved for public sharing

Recent photos approved for public use

Record filenames or where approved copies are kept.

Official public tip contact

Use only the contact confirmed by the agency.

Facts the family and agency say are safe to publish

Information that must stay private

Examples: addresses, shelters, witnesses, health details, or exact sensitive locations.

5. Questions and next steps

What needs to happen next, who will do it, and when to check again

Trusted support person or service (optional)

Someone who can sit with you, make calls with permission, take notes, or help you rest.